

VIDEO TWO · CAPABILITY FORMATION

Is Your Job Making You Less Marketable?

Temidayo Afonja · temidayoafonja.com

TWO DIFFERENT QUESTIONS

Being valuable here
answers only one question.

Valuable here

Legible elsewhere

The second question is whether another context can recognize and use what you have built.

THREE MARKETABILITY TESTS

01

Remove the company nouns

Can the capability still be described?

TEST ONE

Remove the company nouns.

Cross out the employer, the internal programs, the systems, the product names and the acronyms. Read what is left.

Company-bound description

I own the QBR process for this business unit.

What another employer
can understand

I combine incomplete operating data, surface the decision leaders are avoiding, and create a shared view of what needs to happen next.

02

Find outside-context evidence

Has the usefulness survived a change in context?

TEST TWO

Find outside-context evidence.

The evidence can be small. It only has to show the usefulness survived some distance from where it was formed.

01 Cross-functional project

Another group used or sought your judgment.

02 External client or customer

The capability created value beyond your immediate team.

03 Former colleague

They sought your judgment after the original context changed.

04 Another setting or industry contribution

A similar problem or approach remained useful elsewhere.

03

Read the last 90 days

What new judgment did the work build?

TEST THREE

Read the last 90 days.

What can you now do, see or decide that you could not do ninety days ago?

New judgment

Same work faster

- 01 What unfamiliar problem did I have to solve?
- 02 What decision can I now make with less help?
- 03 What constraint, audience or context did I learn to work across?

THE THREE TESTS

Together they separate internal value from external marketability.

01

Remove the company nouns

02

Find outside-context evidence

03

Read the last 90 days

READING THE PATTERN

Read them together.

Is my judgment growing?

Can another context use it?

One familiar sign is not a diagnosis. Read the pattern across growth and portability, and keep the reading provisional.

BEFORE YOU LEAVE

What can I change before I leave?

A concern in one test does not mean the answer is to resign.
Choose one thing to test in the next thirty days.

- 01 Ask for work that creates new judgment, not only more volume.

- 02 Make the capability visible outside the immediate team or function.

- 03 Document knowledge or results that exist mainly in your head.

- 04 Take on an adjacent problem that forces the capability into a different context.

Part Two: Optionality
Market portability. Six statements, out of 30.

7. The capability I am building would be valued by an employer in a different market.
EVIDENCE (last ninety days):

8. I can describe what I do in terms of outcomes, not just my company's processes.
EVIDENCE (last ninety days):

9. If my role disappeared tomorrow, the capability I built would still be valuable.
EVIDENCE (last ninety days):

10. People with the power to hire or advance me, inside or outside my company, see what I am good at.
EVIDENCE (last ninety days):

11. What I am learning is a transferable capability rather than a company-specific skill.
EVIDENCE (last ninety days):

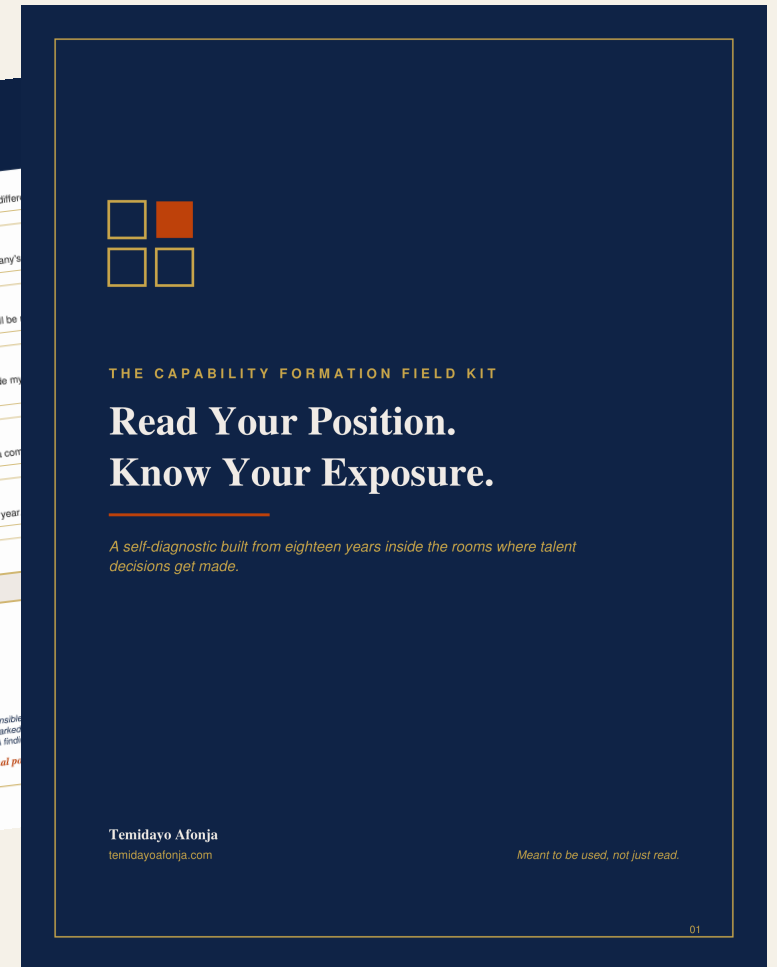

12. I could rebuild a strong position somewhere else within a year.
EVIDENCE (last ninety days):

Add the six answers. Optionality score (out of 30):

If you cannot support a score either way, write your most defensible score. Do not force it downward and do not default to a 3. One or two marked mean you do not have ninety days of evidence on that axis. A final mean you do not have ninety days of evidence on that axis.

A score without an evidence line is a guess with decimal points.
